would try to adjust the matter of the farm.

The New York correspondent of the London Times writes to that journal as An important and very interesting on follows, under date of October 31st: was argued before the United States Court at Pittsburgh, last Wednesday, involving an oil farm on Pithole creek, in Venango "The list of holders of the Confederate stock which appeared in the New York papers a few weeks ago, having been the subject of much comment in England, I ion of dollars. The suit is brought directhink it right to tell you what I know bout the document. On the 8th of Sepof $300,000 at which it was purchased ast January.

Mr. Parcus P. Copeland formerly owned or the first time at the Foreign Office. In he course of conversation he said to me,

'Pray, what has Mr. —— (naming a gen-tleman) made by his stock in the Confede-racy?" I answered that I knew nothing about he losse.

Daniel H. Burtis, one of the defendants n this case, commenced negotiations to purchase the farm, and offered $306,000 on condition that Mr. Copeland would be messenger, Bring that list of British bondholders here. The man brought it, on condition that Mr. Copeland would lift the lease. Mr. Rugg had agreed to take $5,000 for the lease, but the developand Mr. Seward said, 'We have obtained this from Confederate agents in Paris. The Confederates are poor now, and are willing to sell all their secrets. Besides, ment of oll caused him to advance his price to $40,000, which Copeland agreed to pay, under the advice of his friends, in your Vice Chancellor Page Wood has de-cided that we are the heirs-at-law of the Confederacy, and therefore, we are entitled to their papers. This he said with a smile. He then read the list, to the best of my recollection as it appeared afterwards in the same of the list. rder to secure the sale to Burtis. The ontract for the sale was entered into on the 21st of July, 1865, and the payments duly stipulated, $500 being paid in hand. ceived the idea of making a better bar-gain. He had discovered, what Copeland's neighbors testified to the court, that he wards in the papers, together with an account of a meeting at Mr. Beresford Hope's. which you will have seen was published after the list. 'Now,' said Mr. Seward (Copeland) was a weak-minded man, and would do whatever a man in whom he handing the papers to me, 'you may judg how disinterested was the support English leaders of opinion gave to the Confede racy.' I, and a member of the English Hsuse of Commons who was present, sug ork, that he and a friend out west would ake the farm at $75,000 or at most $100,000, for that much money spread be-fore Copeland would secure his signature. He arranged with Moran for telegraphic dispatches about the depreciation of oil lands, and Burtis returned to Venango county to receive and cause them to be spread before Copeland.

Morey, a cousin of Burtis, and the defendant in the case, now came from Chitell that. I only tell you where I got them from. I intend to use them, and we shall see,' On looking down the list I said, 'I am sure there must be some mistake here,' and the member of Parliament made similar remark when he saw the name of Mr. Gladstone down for $2,000. Mr. Sew-Mr. Gindstone down for $2,000. Mr. New-ard, however, merely repeated that Con-federate agents had sold the list in Paris. cago, and on the 1st of April they went and dined with Mr. Copeland. As they left his house, Burtis requested him to come The papers were foolscap sheets, fastened together by a piece of blue ribbon in the corner. I now know that they were in the handwriting of the American Minister at Paris, Mr. Bigelow. Of this, I re-peat, there is not the slightest doubt. 1 eard no more of the list until one morn heard no more of the list until one morn-ing I saw all the newspapers shouting over it. The season for buckwheat cakes has crived. A writer in the American Agby incessant importunities and by alternate appeals to hopes and fears, producing at times, as the evidence shows, alarm and panic, the signatures of Parcus T.
